“We must learn to run together” POPE LEO SAYS IN HIS WORLD CUP MESSAGE

With the FIFA World Cup is underway, during his apostolic visit to Spain Pope Leo XIV shared a reflection regarding soccer, highlighting the importance of learning teamwork as a lesson for life.

“Soccer also helps us remember something very important: that life is not a race to be run in solitude; it is something played as a team, and we must learn to run together, Someone who could be a star but never passes the ball doesn't let the others get into the game will probably lose.”

Six Reasons to Watch the World Cup

The 2026 FIFA World Cup is coming to North America the first time in history that the tournament will be hosted by three nations: the United States, Canada, and Mexico. With 48 teams competing in 104 matches. Here are six reasons why Catholics should tune in:

1. The Popes Knew Something We Didn't

Both Pope Leo and the late Pope Francis recognized soccer's unique power to unite humanity and build community. Pope Francis, a lifelong supporter of Argentina's San Lorenzo club, frequently spoke about sport's ability to teach important human virtues. If the successors of St. Peter saw value in the beautiful game, perhaps there's wisdom in joining them. The World Cup reminds us that joy and recreation are gifts from God meant to be celebrated.

2. It's a Global Celebration of Human Connection

For a few weeks, billions of people across every continent gather around screens, filling homes, cafés, and public squares with collective passion. This is one of the few moments when humanity genuinely unites around something larger than ourselves. Catholics understand the power of gathering in community the World Cup offers a modern expression of that same human longing for connection and belonging.

3. It's a Masterclass in Virtue

Watching the World Cup teaches us about hope, perseverance, and trust in providence. Teams spend four years preparing, fans invest their emotions in outcomes they cannot control, and every match requires surrender to something beyond ourselves. When a penalty shootout arrives and analysis becomes useless, what remains is prayer and trust spiritual disciplines we practice in our faith life every day.

4. You'll Witness Faith in Action

The World Cup stage amplifies what happens in soccer regularly: players openly expressing their faith. You'll see athletes making the Sign of the Cross before matches, pointing heavenward after goals, and speaking boldly about God in interviews. In a secular world, the World Cup provides a powerful reminder that faith and excellence can coexist beautifully.

5. It Celebrates the Goodness of the Body

The athleticism on display is extraordinary: players run the equivalent of a half-marathon over 90 minutes, sprint at speeds approaching 22 mph, and control a moving ball with breathtaking precision. Watching elite athletes push their bodies to their limits is a form of witnessing God's creation in action. The human body, trained and disciplined, becomes an instrument of beauty.

6. It Invites You Into Something Bigger Than Yourself

Perhaps most importantly, the World Cup invites us to be part of a global family. When you pull on your country's colors and celebrate with millions of strangers, you experience what it means to belong to something transcendent. This is the same longing that draws us to faith: the desire to be part of a community united by something deeper than ourselves.

The 2026 World Cup kicks off June 11 and runs through July 19. Whether you tune in for the faith stories, the astonishing athleticism, or simply to discover what billions of people find so compelling, now is the perfect time to give the beautiful game a chance.

നിത്യജീവന്റെ വചസ്സുകൾ

“കർത്താവേ, ഞങ്ങൾ ആരുടെ അടുത്തേക്കു പോകും? നിത്യജീവന്റെ വചനങ്ങൾ നിന്റെ പക്കലുണ്ട്” എന്ന പത്രോസിന്റെ മറുപടി നമ്മളെ ചിന്തിപ്പിക്കേണ്ടതാണ്. പലരും തന്നെ ഉപേക്ഷിച്ചുപോയപ്പോഴും കൂടെനിന്ന ശിഷ്യരോട്, “നിങ്ങളും പോകാൻ ആഗ്രഹിക്കുന്നുവോ” എന്ന് ഈശോ ചോദിച്ചപ്പോൾ പത്രോസ് പറഞ്ഞ മറുപടിയാണിത്.

ജീവിതത്തിൽ പ്രശ്നങ്ങളുണ്ടാകുമ്പോൾ പലരും ഈശോയെ ഉപേക്ഷിച്ചുപോകുന്ന സംഭവങ്ങൾ നാം കേൾക്കാറുണ്ട്. നമ്മളും പലപ്പോഴും ഈശോയെ ഉപേക്ഷിച്ചുപോകാറുണ്ട്. പക്ഷേ, എവിടെപ്പോയാലും ഈശോയേക്കാളും വലിയ അഭയകേന്ദ്രം നമുക്ക് എവിടെക്കിട്ടാനാണ്? ഈശോയിൽ നിന്ന് അകന്നുപോകുന്നവർ വലിയ അപകടത്തിലേക്കാണ് പോകുന്നതെന്ന് ഓർത്താൽ നന്ന്. ഒപ്പം ഓർക്കുക, “എങ്ങും പോകാൻ ഇടമില്ലാത്തവന്റെ ഇടമാണ് ഈശോ” എന്നതും. “നീയാണ് ദൈവത്തിന്റെ പരിശുദ്ധൻ എന്ന് ഞങ്ങൾ വിശ്വസിക്കുകയും അറിയുകയും ചെയ്തിരിക്കുന്നു” എന്ന് പത്രോസ് പറഞ്ഞതുപോലെ നമുക്കും പറയാൻ സാധിക്കണം.
